

CHUTNEY
MARY

29 September 2014

CHUTNEY MARY IS MOVING TO ST JAMES'S

Chutney Mary will be moving to 73 St James's Street, London SW1 from its present home in Chelsea early in 2015, after a major refurbishment

These are historic restaurant premises located in one of London's most exclusive areas. These premises were initially occupied by Prunier, the historic French fish restaurant, from 1936 to 1980. The most recent occupant was Wheelers.

Therefore, they are very appropriate for the new Chutney Mary. We are currently finalising the features of the new Chutney Mary – culinary, design & style.

The new Chutney Mary will combine the most successful aspects of the cuisine from the existing Chutney Mary with significant innovation in menu items, styling and presentation. The menu will be refined and tailored for St James's.

The fine new interiors will be tailored for the space & the location.

- ENDS -

Media requesting further information and images should contact:
Marketing Department
020 7724 2525 Option 2
marketing@realindianfood.com

CHUTNEY
MARY

Amaya

MASALA
ZONE